

JIMRS (Jesus Is My Rock Star)

The Red Jumpsuit Apparatus

If he was a star
Would you feel the same when you call his name?
Would you remember to trust
And know the suffering and life's scars
Could be righted from the will to walk to the extra mile
Don't fall apart, remembering he had your hand at the start

I hope that someday you will know
All the pain that he has suffered for us
Did you know?
How we've been drifting with the air of hope
I know we're not alone, not alone

If you were to slip, who would catch your fall?
And love you through it all
I still recall the day I learned His love would never fade
He is right here, waiting for you

Hoping someday you'd know
All the pain that he has suffered for us
Did you know?
I want to give the world a little hope
Let them know they're not alone, no
You're not alone
You're not alone

If you need someone right now
I'll be there to show you around
He will never let you down
God knows you tried to work things out
Just let go, have no doubt
The place is here, the time is now

I hope that someday you will know
All the pain that he has suffered for us
Did you know?
Give the world a little hope
Let em know they're not alone, no
You're not alone
Not alone
You're not alone
You're not alone

If he was a star
Would you feel the same when you call his name?
