

The Crazy Ones

The Red Jumpsuit Apparatus

Let's take it back to days
When we still were the crazy ones,
When everything was brighter,
Everything still felt so young.
I will not, for one single second,
Take back all the promises I made,
And that's okay.

Let's start a fire,
No intentions but to watch it burn.
See the flames consume
Through shades of red and blue in turn.
I remember thinking that one day
People would be singing all my songs,
So sing along.

Let's go all the way,
Leave opinions in the grey,
Tell me if you feel the same way.
We can live like Romeo and Juliet,
Montague and Capulet.
We live for us.

I still remember how it felt when everything was fun,
Staying up 'til three a.m.
Just to plan vacations.
I think it is getting harder to accept those things
That I can't change,
Am I to blame?

I meant forever when I said you'd always be the one,
After all, who else could
Put up with all my problems?
I will make for every single day
With you I spend,
Until the end.

Let's go all the way,
Leave opinions in the grey,
Tell me if you feel the same way.
We can live like Romeo and Juliet,
Montague and Capulet.

Whoa, we will be remembered as the crazy ones.
Whoa, we will be remembered as the crazy ones.
Whoa, will you be remembered as the crazy ones?

Let's go all the way,
Leave opinions in the grey,
Tell me if you feel the same way.
We can live like Romeo and Juliet,
Montague and Capulet.
We live for us.

Let's go all the way,
Leave opinions in the grey,
Tell me if you feel the same way.

We can live like Romeo and Juliet,
Montague and Capulet.
We live for us.
