

Of First And Last Things

The Red Shore

Martyrs of humanity
Overcome by failure
Welcome the Armageddon
Followers of the revenant
The slaves to worship your
Minds so bent so frail
Forgiveness will not be rewarded
For the inability to question
Hierarchies thirsting for power
Your intentions have been rejected
I will slay the serpent of deceit
And all that shall repent
The cults of salvation
Will lay in ruins for your ignorance to attention
Exhausted these tyrants will be
Destroyed by my hands unmerciful
The treachery you have spilled
Upon this earth you all will leave behind
As I walk across the sea of souls
Where angels fear to tread
This world will flood with redemption
The shores will bleach the darkest red
I will slay the serpent of deceit
And all that shall repent
I will slay the serpent of deceit
And all that shall repent
Martyrs of humanity
Overcome by failure
Welcome the Armageddon
The stench of existence
Will be removed from a world bleeding for hope
Mankind has outlived its days
And defiance will rule helpless
Know this
I will devour the earth
And the atrocities of man with it
Apologetics will kiss the toes of death with regret
Approaching apocalypse of all mankind
Apologetics will kiss the toes of death with regret
Approaching apocalypse of all mankind
Apologetics will kiss the toes of death
