

Modern Diet

The Redwalls

I think this fiction's right
So good, so long and look unite
I bet it's kicking in
Oh boy you better calls more

Too much light makes the baby go blinded
Don't you think that I kick them my

They say it's all been done before
They say it's all been done before
And there's really nothing new
I guess that's just your point of view

I bet you're old school
So modern, so smart, so cool
So how's your trust fund?
You must be so proud of all the work your father's done

Too much light makes the baby go blinded
Don't you think that I kick them my

They say it's all been done before
They say it's all been done before
And there's really nothing new
I guess that's just your point of view

Five, six...
Cuz it's one, two, one...

They say it's all been done before
They say it's all been done before
And there's really nothing new
I guess that's just your point of view
