Beautiful Thing

The Rembrandts

I'd like to teach the world to sing A song that don't mean anything So we can sit and hum it all day Sometimes, I think I think too much When I feel I'm losin' touch Well, I've got just the record to play

Let everybody know That rock 'n' roll is king Let everybody know It's a beautiful thing, oh yeah

They're fightin' here, they're fightin' there Blowin' stuff up everywhere Now why can't we all just get along Gotta ring the bell and blow the horn The fabric of our lives are torn But we can mend it all with a song

Let everybody know That rock 'n' roll is king Let everybody know It's a beautiful thing, oh yeah

Everybody sing Laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa Alright, I want everyone to sing Laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, okay

Now if you want to take a trip A journey that you won't forget You just have to let love in your heart And if you do, I'm tellin' you You're gonna find a way that's true The light that guides you home in the dark

Let everybody know That rock 'n' roll is king Let everybody know It's a beautiful thing, oh yeah

Let everybody know There's a song they can sing Let everybody know It's a beautiful thing, yeah, alright

Laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa Let everybody sing Laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa I want everybody

Laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa Let everybody Laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa, laa Yeah
