

In The Back Of Your Mind

The Rembrandts

Well she would never say she loved me, but this I somehow knew

There'd come a day she'd leave me lonely, as I was sure the sky is blue

By the time I woke the mornin', she was already up and gone

You're in my every memory
And I wonder is it me, that you see
In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind

And though she's lost to me forever, our secret will remain There in the nights we spent together, on earth we're bound by love in vain

Til the sky above has fallen, we'll be together once again

And when the sky above has fallen, we'll be together once again

In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind
