

Fight Song

The Republic Tigers

Evacuate now!

Illegitimi non carborundum.
If you cared, there'd be love in the air.
Pharmaceuti-government got your mind
And your thoughts.
Can you feel
Where's your spine?

Evacuate now, cause
This storms out for blood.
Build a shelter for your kind,
And protect the ones you love.
It seems that
Everyday we're fightin', and we're
Causin' bolts of lightnin', like a
Hot and cold collision in the sky.

You think your fellas, co-conspirators,
Got your back?
When the fear they dispatch
Comes from a diffident path.
What of then,
Opponent ready to pass?
When the clouds clear
We'll be standing here.

Get down in your basement.
These sirens are loud.
Lock the doors and eat the key,
To elude the things you'd see.
Take notice,
Everybody's frightened by the
Radically enlightened, and they Say to jump.
Still, you reply How high?

Evacuate now, cause
This storm's out for blood.
Build a shelter for your kind...
