

Good Night

The Roches

Once upon a time there was a very friendly princess
Who was captured
By a big, grumpy, invisible wizard. he locked her in The tippy top of his
Tower and late at night when she was very tired,
Getting ready to fall Asleep on her bed of stones, she would look out the Window, up into
The sky, and twiddle her thumbs and sing a song that She just made
Up. she didn't know why. it was just about a feeling
That she had. and it Sounded something like this...
I love you from far away
Like I love the moon
You are the brightest star
In my cartoon
someday I'll find you
Whoever you are
I know you are out there
But where?
You couldn't be far now this princess got very very smart after years of Thinking in the tower
And it began to dawn on her that perhaps the Invisible wizard wasn't
Even there! so, she approached the gigantic door
That kept her locked into the tower and she OPENED it! then tiptoed Carefully down the Stairs to the bottom where lo and behold she walked Into a clearing in
The woods and she was free! and you'll never Believe it but there was An entire village of forest animals and people Dancing and singing. they had been Waiting for her all these years! they sang together...
I love you from far away
Like I love the moon
You are the brightest star
In my cartoon
someday I'll find you
Whoever you are
I know you are out there
But where?
well, that's the end of the story
I'm getting kind of tired
I think I'll go to sleep now, goodnight!
