

So Far Away

The Rocket Summer

Try until you finally say, you're watching this whole town,
You're making my heart bleed, it shows it by your frown!
And I'm already sure that my name you will miss and I won't be the same

It's time to wake from bed,
I'm choking on your sick city ways.
I'm letting my seat slip away,
Knowing there will be another day... right?

Now, it's time,
Time just to clear my mind,
It's the same, same old way back until you come...

You're so far away, you're so far away back from this side of me.
(So far away)
You're so far away you're so far away... you don't see this side of me.

Through the days I wept 'cause I don't know myself,
Through the days I wept 'cause I don't know myself,
Through these moments I'll keep lying to these lies,
So from here we'll make another live
To make you there to make you mine.

Time, it kills me everyday, just asking you to stay,
Just trying to find my way, it happens everyday,
I'm reaching to the stars, I'm reaching to the sky,
My mind it fades away.

I'm sick today for her,
I'm choking on your sick stupid ways.
I'm letting my seat slip away,
Knowing there will be another day... right?

Now it's time,
I've come just to clear my mind
The same, same old way back until you come

You're so far away, you're so far away back from this side of me.
(So far away)
You're so far away, you're so far away... you don't see this side of me.

Through the days I wept 'cause I don't know myself,
Through the days I wept 'cause I don't know myself,
Through these moments I'll keep lying to these lies,
So from here we'll make another live
To make you there to make you mine.
Alright
