

Come Visit Me

The Rosebuds

I'm the last one to understand
You won't find footing for sure There's not really even a soft place left to land Heavy chop falls against the grain
This thing echoes for miles
All frayed inside of it, to the middle ring
And I want to feel
something way out here
I need something to happen now,
even if it fucks me up
Come visit me
way out here
I need you to see me,
even if it makes it worse
So send a note to me that says a nice thing
But can't unfray the mess
A million tiny splinters, the ax still ringing Glue them all together to build a new thing A mostly nice place to be A noble triumph come see, an absolute feat
And I want to feel
something way out here
I need something to happen now,
even if it fucks me up
Come visit me
way out here
I need you to see me,
even if it makes it worse
I would have never left you alone way out there
If I could have heard anything at all
And I want to feel
something way out here
I need something to happen now,
even if it fucks me up
Come visit me
way out here
I need you to see me,
Come visit me
way out here
I need you to see me,
