

I'll Always Love You

The Rubettes

There's a trace of sadness in your voice
And your eyes are filled with tears
Though I'll be gone for quite some times
So, lock away your fears

I'll always love you baby

Listen to me now
I'll always love you baby

Love you baby and how

Even though I'm leaving I see your face
Every time I close my eyes
And think of being home again
Saying our goodbyes

I'll always love you baby

Listen to me now
I'll always love you baby

Love you baby and how

I'll always love you baby

Listen to me now
I'll always love you baby

Love you baby and how
