

It's Just Make Believe

The Rubettes

It's just make believe, only make believe
All that's left for me is your memory
Things that used to be, you there holding me
Must they always be, make believe to me
I saw the date today, this year has flown away
Still I hear your voice, like it was yesterday
I close my eyes and then, you're by my side again
I see your smiling face, I feel your warm embrace

It's just make believe, only make believe
All that's left for me is your memory
Things that used to be, you there holding me
Must they always be, make believe to me

I saw the date today, this year has flown away
Still I hear your voice, like it was yesterday
I close my eyes and then, you're by my side again
I see your smiling face, I feel your warm embrace

I can't recall the place, Just your arms around my waist
And the gentle look the mirror gave your face
And then the highway the lights in my way Oh they're not blaming me, That won't bring you back to me

It's just make believe, only make believe
All that's left for me is your memory
Things that used to be, you there holding me
Must they always be, make believe to me
I saw the date today, this year has flown away
Still I hear your voice, like it was yesterday
I close my eyes and then, you're by my side again
I see your smiling face, I feel your warm embrace
