

Ornaments on Malice

The Ruins of Beverast

Nec volunt quod deus talia fieri permittat.

Read, fatuous lambs...

Your wretched evils are punished far beyond disease and death

It is them who let the Daemon operate, despite miserable angelic restraint

It is them who feed the glory of our lord, and so artfully afflict Him

And o your animal acts...

Patior peccatum originale originatum!

Warm semen is passed on, and the guilt, the shame, o the shame!

Quanto crebrius quis diabolo se subiecit tanto intollerabilior em sibi facit ut ei reluctari non possit.

Sed cum mali crebrius se subieciant diabolo eis sit tentatio magis intollerabilis et frequentior cum non habeant scutum fidei formate quo se tueantur.

Read, fatuous lambs, the five signs of the divine:

Precept, Prohibition, Advice, Operation, Permission

In times of the witch your devotional faith may be a fatal denial

Nothing is done unless Almighty God wishes it to be done,

Either by permitting it or by Himself doing it.
