Gettin' Hot

The Runaways

With every beat of my heart its getting dark There's something in the air The doors aren't locked, you know it's not But I just know you're somewhere Hands on the table, are they empty got a fable Is it true? Say he's coming no one said a word They've gotten through

Its such a crush, its getting hot Temperature's rising it's getting hot

Shot a single word for telling true I can hear him pant I wanna leave but I just can't breathe free If they begin their chant

Its such a crush, its getting hot Temperature's rising it's getting hot

Church is breaking my body's shaking I just can't tell He's coming back my head is black He must be under a spell
