It's Looking Good

The Rutles

There was no one in my life 'til I met you You showed me love and taught me how to smile You picked me up when I was feeling blue From now on my future is worth while It's looking good Now that you have given me reason to live I will stay forever by your side And give you all the loving I can give Just say the word and be my bride It's looking good I'm not throwing caution to the wind. No, no Love is not an easy game to play Although I may not be a man of words. Yeah, yeah There is one thing I feel that I should say It's looking good It's looking good! It's looking good! It's looking good!
