

All Fools Day

The Saints

Just give me one last kiss this jewel is a roughened friend of mine
I suppose we all have to go sometime Christ abandoned in the wilderness could have blessed himself & been done with it not you or me
we're stuck here in this mindless eternity
On all fools day
we can all join together
On all fools day
we can join the celebration
On all fools day
So when the day comes when there is no tomorrow crashing dreams like sleep you can't rise from your pillow & the blinding light might destroy your sorrow empires falling down like a rain from heaven
So on this lazy afternoon while the sun is still shining raise a glass of wine & let others decide
On all fools day
On all fools day
we can join the celebration
On all fools day
