

Always, Always

The Saints

I wish that today could last forever I'm standing at the edge of a lonely sea here comes tonight & it brings it's sorrow
I will stand waiting for tomorrow
Always Always
I look through the mists & I see you walking I remember last night when we were talking yesterday's gone there is no repeating tomorrow don't come there is only waiting Always Always