(I'm) Misunderstood

I stand alone now I don't run I don't care nothing for your seventh son I've been missunderstood for too long Been screaming loud but I ain't been heard sometimes I wonder if it's worth the words I've been missunderstood for too long You're all talking about better days if I got one I think I'd go insane I've been missunderstood for too long Been screaming loud but I ain't been heard I've been missunderstood for too long I tell you babe it just ain't right I sit & dream about you every night still I can't get ya....
