The Saints

I'm pawning my blues I've got my walking shoes no looking over my shoulder I'm heading off in a motor I'm dammed if I do & I'm dammed if I don't I'll get my head out of moth balls I'll clean out the closet I've been looking for a clue now I know what to do I've been waiting for sometime you can have yours I want to..... Savour my time without reason or ryhme I'm going down to the basement I left something down there It is not in my mind it is following me around like a faithful old bloodhound might come & undo me I've been looking for a clue now I know what to do I've been waiting for sometime you can have yours I want a..... Revolution in my life I think that now is the time...
