

The Ballad

The Saints

Send someone out to get me in
I think it's starting to rain Don't be rough don't ask too many questions of me I don't think I can stand It's very late in the evening & I see the sun it refuses to shine if you believed everything you have said to me why don't you understand & I say to myself
this world ain't doing me too much good I've lost my reasons
I stand out in the falling rain
I've been ten days in overdrive
I crawl the nearest wall I don't know where it is I am going to or where I've just come from one more drink might make me feel better it is a friend when you are down but one more drink will only bring me closer to what it is I'm running from
