

2 am

The Saturdays

2am wide awake lying on my bed tuning on the radio tryna make the emptiness go

I've been up I've been reading and crying tryna love you a little less But I, I, I struggle with my heart and my mind

Oooh yeah

There's a tug of war and i keep losing cause my heart's got a really good excuse She's so so sad, lying in her bed
So so mad at me

She says I want my love
Bring it back to me
I won't go anywhere
I need my baby, baby
Don't say it's over baby, baby (no, no, no)
She says I want my love
Just to keep beating
We can't go anywhere
without my baby
don't say that love is gone
my heart will not agree to be alone

I was so young and unfocused Let you go even when I knew that I put you in the way of my prime

There's a tug of war
and I keep losing
cause my heart's got a really good excuse
She's so so sad, lying in her bed
So so mad at me

She says I want my love
Bring it back to me
I won't go anywhere
I need my baby, baby
Don't say it's over baby, baby (no, no, no)
She says I want my love
Just to keep beating
We can't go anywhere
without my baby
don't say that love is gone
my heart will not agree to beat alone

Though my heart is having seizures everyday I don't know what else to do but sunday pray She's crying over you and blaming me
I gotta go home now

She says I want my love

Bring it back to me
I won't go anywhere
I need my baby, baby

She says I want my love
Bring it back to me
I won't go anywhere
I need my baby, baby
Don't say it's over baby, baby (no, no, no)
Just to keep beating
