The Screaming Jets

I won't say no more about what we're talking 'bout I won't say another word All my dreams that I try and tell you 'bout You don't understand a word

All the time and all the bridges over Water through our hearts and minds
Now I see that all we had was nothing
When all the time and all the lies so I tell you now

I won't say no more about what we're talking 'bout I won't say another word All my dreams that I try and tell you 'bout You don't understand a word

You and I and others, we have been there We've hit the bottom and not the top So who would have thought
That all we had had fallen

When all the dreams I have, I'm goin' up so I tell you know As you sit there smiling
Not a thing can make me see that you have changed
Break away from death's road

We had dreams about that fame and fortune Said I'm gonna make it and be a star All of our names remembered by the people I should have known that we could never go that far
