

No Man Is an Island

The Script

I'm a love, love, love refugee
Don't let nobody get close to me
I'm a hard, hard, hard fugitive
Always running that's the way I live

Cause when you go solo, end up feeling so low
You become your own worst enemy
Thinking that there's no hope, and your boat won't float
This is what she said, what she said to me

No man is an Island
No-one should be on their own
Look at the horizon, cause love will always take you home
She said all hearts break, don't lost faith, you can't live life that way
No man is an Island
No-one should be on their own
No man is an Island
No man is an Island

I'm a thousand miles from yesterday
Now I'm living like a castaway
Just a broken man on the shore
Still hurting from the one before

Cause when you go solo, end up feeling so low
You become your own worst enemy
Thinking that there's no hope, and your boat won't float
This is what she said, what she said to me

No man is an Island
No-one should be on their own
Look at the horizon, cause love will always take you home
She said all hearts break, don't lost faith, you can't live life that way
No man is an Island
No-one should be on their own
No man is an Island
No man is an Island

I know there's plenty more fish in the sea
But only sharks circle me
And when my heart was buried in the sand
You came along and took my hand
I know there's plenty more fish in the sea
But only sharks circle me
And when my heart was buried in the sand
You came along and took my hand, made me understand

No man is an Island
No-one should be on their own
Look at the horizon, cause love will always take you home
She said all hearts break, don't lost faith, you can't live life that way
No man is an Island
No-one should be on their own
No man is an Island
No man is an Island
No one should be on their own
No man is an Island
