

I Count The Tears

The Searchers

Na na na na na na, late at night
Na na na na na na, late at night
I sit and count the tears

I've counted everyday since you've been away
I seems like thousand years

And at na na na na na na, late at night
I sit and count the tears

And I have counted all your lies, all your alibies
Now, I'm a girl, believes what she hears

Na na na na na na, late at night
Na na na na na na, late at night
I sit and count the tears

He's gone and found somebody new
She may be happy now but soon
She'll be counting everyday that he's been away
And it wil seem like thousand years

Na na na na na na, late at night
Na na na na na na, late at night
I sit and count the tears

She'll sit and count the tears
She'll sit and count the tears
