

Mortal

The September When

All my life I have been waiting for this moment to arrive
I am speeding up the tempo inside (fly high)
I doubt that the circles that I'm moving in are something I could ever get out of alive (I love to say that) I can feel that it starts burning I got my fingers between like a shock the torture gets to my face
tip-top you must go out you must go out
I have decided for your joy
Chorus:
No easy coming, open my eyes
I can see everything is mortal
No easy going, I realise I can see everything and that everything is mortal All my life I have been waiting for this it keeps me from sleeping (allright) I doubt that the circles that I'm moving in are something I could ever get out of alive Yeah!
