I'm A Believer

The Sheila Divine

Stick to the good drinks Martinis do bad things I know you get scared When you drive impaired

I hesitate it's much too late I can't tell where this bed begins Give him a chance Due to circumstance I know i can act You should see me lie!

All the more, all the more real I know i know you can't deal What were you thinking?

To my surprise I'm hypnotized By the sight of flesh And the scent of skin Give me a chance Due to circumstance I know i can act You should see me lie!

All the more, all the more real I know i know you can't deal What were you thinking?

I'm a believer
