

in this space so infinite a sea of milk we float like wood

as we wait, rescue me
bring me home, give me peace
if i let you off
would you leave for good?
i hope not

as we lose our bodies fold a subtle change until we're cold

if i let you off
would you leave for good?

do you see neglect in me? i feel the storm, an old fury

if i let you off
would you leave for good?
would you take your time or run like hell?
would you know my name?
would you sink or swim?
if i let you off
would you leave for good?
