

So This Is The Night

The Slackers

So this is the night, well
Guess I'd better get ready
So this is the night you're gonna break my heart

This is my question
If you've been wondering
Should I have trusted you lord
From the start

â€˜Cause I'll never trust
No-one again
I thought there's a way
This time it'd be different
But its just a drag
I thought it was fate
No it's just a sin
The more that I wait
The less that I win
And I'll never trust
No-one again

See I'm just a monkey
And she's just annoying
I didn't know until she said goodbye

So this is the night, well
I'll buy her reasons
They're just as good as some reasons of mine

But I'll never trust
No-one again
I thought there's a way
This time it'd be different
But its just a drag
I thought it was fate
No it's just a sin
The more that I wait
The less that I win
And I'll never trust
No-one again

It only spoils your happy moments
To know they're here in passing
And that they're never lasting
So this is the night
And this is your answer
And love is my cancer
And I must remove before she takes me too

You let me go free
No-one to hold me
Well don't worry about me,
I won't, I won't worry about you

No I'll never trust
No-one again

This time it'd be different
But its just a drag
I thought it was fate
No it's just a sin
The more that I wait
The less that I win
And I'll never trust
No-one again

So this is the night, well
So this is the night, well
So this is the night, well

So this is the night
So this is the night
So this is the night
So this is the night
So this is the night
So this is the night
