

Who Knows

The Slackers

I know so many people told me
I know from times before
Why those who don't even know me
Why they always writes the law
Wise man well he said I know
Easy come is easy go
But were you born to suffer
Ask him and he just don't know

Who knows when it comes to morning
But here it comes again

No I won't try to roll ya
Though you're an easy mark
Just think what your momma told ya
Don't pet squirrels in the park
It's alright if you say what you're feeling
Waiting quiet in the dark
When you in the sunlight kneeling
Who you gonna say you are

Who knows when it comes to morning
But here it comes again

Who knows when it comes to morning
But here it comes again

Now dig deep for the bottom
It's all right you take it slow
Dig deep on the bottom
You'll need it, this I know

They say we all gonna leave some day my friend
So tell me why you wanna start something that never ends

Who knows when it comes to morning
But here it comes again
Who knows when it comes to morning
But here it comes again

I said
Who knows when it comes to morning
But here it comes again
