

You're sitting in a glass hatch
waiting for the walls to crack, I wanted to anoint you with love felt like you had no fun.
Yardstick becomes blurred and hazy until you say you have to have me around.
It's a song in your head
counting bad times in your head
I can't make it on my own.