

Spend, Spend, Spend

The Slits

I am trapped in a flood, but it isn't raining
I have a tendency to get bored too quickly
Recently my dull life seems to have no meaning
I am stuck with someone we're not communicating

I want to buy
Have you been affected?
I need consoling
You could be addicted

I need something new Something trivial would do
I want to satisfy this empty feeling

Walking down the street looking in the windows
The t.v., the lights, flickering in other peoples windows
Imagine myself moving in the kitchens
Somehow I don't know it just looks so tempting

I want to buy
Have you been affected?
I need consoling
You could be addicted

I've got a new improved remedy
Two of my lonely fantasies

When I supply myself with something new...

Going home, into bed when I've treated myself
I've been quite hard, after a hard days work
I have found a hundred ways to get rid of all my worries
He's not pillaging, stopping me, commenting the crime

I want to buy
Have you been affected?
I need consoling
You could be addicted

I've got a new improved remedy
Two of my lonely fantasies
I've got a new improved remedy
Two of my lonely fantasies
