Now And Then

The Smithereens

I've been torn apart since I met you Don't know how I'll see it through Troubled times are on their way Wish that you could stay

Now and then
I feel like giving up
Instead I'll cry, alone
And wonder why

Friends tell me I'm acting like a fool The way we live breaks all the rules The lies I tell don't seem so strange Wake me up, I'll change

Now and then
I feel like giving up
Instead I'll cry, alone
And just say goodbye

Love, I can't believe my lies drove you away Love, I can't believe I made you feel this way

Last time that I looked into your eyes Telling lies that made you cry Troubled times are on their way Wish that you could stay

Now and then
I feel like giving up
Instead I'll cry, alone
And wonder why

Love, I can't believe my lies drove you away Love, I can't believe I made you feel this way

Now and then Now and then Now and then
