

Count To Ten

The Softies

let's finally stop this endless chase take that smile from your face this isn't funny anymore I don't know what you're waiting for so I'll close my eyes and I'll count to ten and I'll never feel that way again do a favor to us all just go away don't write don't call this couldn't possibly get worse if you don't leave then I'll go first always someone to take you in your weakness proved to be my win 'cause if I'd never known this ache there might be something left to break someday and when I cry it's not so bad compared to all those fights we had just don't remind me of that time when all I wanted was to die and I'll close my eyes and I'll count to ten and I'll never feel that way again