

Just A Day

The Softies

I wish I could draw a line
Through all of nineteen ninety-nine
All except that moment in spring
When I had everything
I had everything

It's funny how a year can make
So much of only one mistake
All I wanted was the life I planned
But now I understand
Now I understand

I wish I had never known
A heart that beats just like my own
How can one so close become so far away
In just a day
In just a day
