

You Don't Like Me Anymore

The Softies

standing in my kitchen we're staring at our shoes you don't have to pretend anymore I'm going away today, nothing could make me stay I guess I'm better off this way standing in my kitchen let's suck the coffee down you're scared to find the words to let me know but I know what's on your mind, your love for me is left behind at least you're not being unkind standing in my kitchen my heart's all twisted up I can't believe I've grown so fond of you but it's time to let you go, why crushes fade I'll never know this healing process is so slow

you don't like me anymore
