

Engraved In Our Hearts

The Sorrow

Just for the sake of friendship
I sacrifice my blood

Just for the sake of friendship
I sacrifice my blood

The bonds of our relation
Are all that we have got
In times of deepest sorrow
(You) breathe air into my lungs

Take this oath
A precious promise
Take this oath

Sincere words have been spoken
Nothing tears us apart
Our fellowship's eternal
Engraved in our hearts

This alliance will outlive the storm
Burn down the walls that have replaced all bridges
When everything feels like a burning thorn
We feel alive, we feel alive

In troubled days we stand our ground
Because everything brings something new to fight for United we join forces
To conquer solitude

Ourselves against this world
We let our torches shine
No one can bring us down
Our bonding is divine

Take this oath
A precious promise
Take this oath

This alliance will outlive the storm
Burn down the walls that have replaced all bridges
When everything feels like a burning thorn
We feel alive, we feel alive