

Facing The End

The Sorrow

Nothing stays golden, nothing's forever
When fading (the fall of mortal life)
The autumn of time brings a change
When aeons seem so short in time

Wasted life only with taking
I regret my sins
My sins, my sins!
Turn back time, turn back time!

Turn the pages of the life I lived!
Ink stains on my hands like blood!

I pay the price for my sins
Haven't thought I'd end alone

Nothing stays golden, nothing's forever
Looking back at my achievements
Can't say that I'm proud of myself
Envy and greed
Have taken over
By now I'm repenting my life

Facing the end in sorrow
I regret my sins!
My sins, my sins!
Turn back time, turn back time!

All alone in the darkest moments
I'm begging for someone by my side
But with all the mistakes
That I have made
This will be hopeless, a hopeless fight!

Turn the pages of the life I lived!
Ink stains on my hands like blood!

Turn the pages of the life I lived
Ink stains on my hands like blood!

I pay the price for my sins
Haven't thought I'd end alone
