

Follow The Lights

The Sorrow

I won't regret
A single phrase I said
In fragile words
I don't deny
Your points of view are strong
But you seem lost

This life has proved you wrong
Most times it's just your own deception
That made your skies fall
A straight look in your heart
I see the scars that left you hopeless
And robbed all your trust

Follow the lights to find yourself inside
In days of fear they guide you home alive

A life once lost
Recovered with your trust
Leave it behind
The agony
The sorrow of your life
Now history

This road will be paved with your dreams
This road will be paved with your dreams

This life has proved you wrong
Most times it's just your own deception
That made your skies fall
A straight look in your heart
I see the scars that left you hopeless
And robbed all your trust

Follow the lights to find yourself inside
In days of fear they guide you home alive

All the love you left behind
And all the bridges you have burnt
Must be rebuilt and crossed again