

Numbers Of Failure

The Sorrow

I face myself in the mirror
And I recognize my very dead eyes
You took everything I lived for
And left me with your lies

All my memories turned to dust
Fading flowers without a sense of time

I'm still the one who cares
Bleeding and all the efforts made are unseen
Inside, inside unfolds a fire
This life could be so beautiful
Why do we fail again?

Take away all my sadness
Take away all my pain

Hear me begging on my knees
All my wishes will never be fulfilled

I'm still the one who cares
Bleeding and all the efforts made are unseen
Inside unfolds a fire
This life could be so beautiful
Why do we fail again?

Bleeding, am I bleeding?
Endless love, endless tears
Breathing, am I breathing?
Endless fights, endless tragedy

This life goes on
I won't belong to you
