

Suffering Quotes

The Sorrow

Breeding something terrifying!
My biggest enemy is time!

From my poisoned blood
Is sounding a call to arms!
(It sounds) like a siren
My cancer my destiny!

My vital signs are fading
I need to be revived, be revived
This sickness consumes (all) my life force
I want to be revived, revived

I will conquer my demons
I'll be strong from within
Overcoming my pain
Overcoming my pain
Focus is laid on my powers
Try to regain my strength
Crawling out of this cave
Crawling out of this cave

I endure darkest hours
And try to turn black to white!

Life slips through my hands
And waits to return again
I made a choice
This fight seals my destiny!

My vital signs are fading
I need to be revived, be revived
This sickness consumes (all) my life force
I want to be revived, revived

I will conquer my demons
I'll be strong from within
Overcoming my pain
Overcoming my pain
Focus is laid on my powers
Try to regain my strength
Crawling out of this cave
Crawling out of this cave

When these words come crushing your world
You just take a deep breath and send them back to hell
And when your body is besieged
State clear who is the holder of this soul
And if hope is the last thing you've got
Be aware that it's all that you need
And when everything turned it's back on you
Then let your bruises shine and enlighten the world!
