

Through The Window Pane

The SteelDrivers

Through the window pane a voice comes callin'
like a whisper on the wind it's just a sound of a memory talkin' another lonesome night that never ends

Every minute seems like a year ever heartbeat every tear I walk the floor I walk the streets can't walk away a memory

Through the window pane a voice comes callin'
like a whisper on the wind
it's just a sound of a memory talkin'
another lonesome night that never ends

I can't eat Lord I can't sleep lonesome blues won't let me be it's all my fault it's all my blame played with love and I lost the game

Through the window pane a voice comes callin'
like a whisper on the wind
it's just a sound of a memory talkin'
another lonesome night that never ends

Through the window pane a voice comes callin'
like a whisper on the wind
it's just a sound of a memory talkin'
another lonesome night that never ends
