

She doesn't care about the silver screen She doesn't care about the music business She doesn't care about the arty Scene cos all she knows is she wants to be famous! she want's to ride in a chauffeured car her photograph in the morning papers cos in this world it's who you are and all she knows is she want's so be famous!

She want's to be a celebrity with her face in a magazine
She doesn't care how you get her there she just doesn't want to be alone anymore...

She doesn't care about the TV Shows unless of course it's about Eastenders and Hollywood is where she wants to go where she can bitch about the new pretenders and everywhere there'll be screaming fans scrambling just to get her picture and then the world is in her hands bigger than the queen and so much richer

She want's to be a celebrity with her face in a magazine
She doesn't care how you get her there
she just doesn't want to be alone she'd like to be the party queen who is etched in your memory she doesn't care if you stop and stare she just doesn't want to be alone anymore...

She's got a dream and she'll never stop until she's there sitting at the top she doesn't care what she has to do even if she has to step over you and in the club with her famous friends oh how the highs will never end until the day when she hit's the floor when no one knows her anymore

She want's to be a celebrity with her face in a magazine
She doesn't care how you get her there
she just doesn't want to be alone anymore...
