Motorcrash

The Sugarcubes

Riding on my bicycle I saw a motorcrash A proper motorcrash Lots of spectators

I rushed to the center Saw the injured parents Cuts on the children An awful motorcrash

So dangerous motorcrash So terribly bloody Motorcrash Destructive motorcrash

I took the mother Sneaked with her secretly All the way to my home And nursed her gently

Put on her bandages Gave her milk and biscuits She sighed pleasantly after this Awful motorcrash

So dangerous, dangerous Motorcrash Destructive motorcrash

That girl on that bicycle Showed great interest In all the motorcrashes in the neighborhood She look quite innocent

Then we disguised ourselves Took a taxi to her home When her husband answered the door She introduced herself, he said, "Where have you been all this time?"

But believe in me I know what innocence looks like But she showed great interest

After she got that bicycle
