

If what it boils down to is that "you're either for us or against us,"

I guess I've got a tough, tough choice to make.

'Cause hollow patriotic actions and reenactments don't move me.

And mostly this 21st century brand of propaganda and rhetoric, Co-produced by Disney, and sanitized by CGI.

Just makes me sick.

And when I peer through.

Through the red. Through the white.

And through the blue.

I can see people like you.

Using tragedy to to advance your own narrow moral crusade.
