

Split The Time

The Suicide Machines

What were you doing when you said the things you did what were you saying when you said the things you said no I can't comprehend anything you're saying I don't understand this fucked up game you're playing OK we've come full circle and are you willing to stand by what you said cuz I'm not willing to go around and around with you any longer

It's time to split the time It's time to split the time It's time to split the time between you and me can't you see

If we can just agree to disagree instead of fighting all the time without ever understanding I never have a clue what you're ever fucking thinking you don't make sense you talking nonsense all day

I know we'll get by this time I know we'll get by everything is gonna be alright it's gonna be OK
