

Sandflies all over me crystalizing the dust that I'm breathing I wont see forever
I wont see what I've been now daylight beckons me I draw the shade drawing closer to sleep and I'm a lot like you are I'm a lot like you are now
'cause I've been digging into the sand
and I'll never understand, I've been running so high,
never thought I could die, and I would live the longest the longest of our lives sandflies all over me,
suffocating the one that I needed, and I wont see before you, I wont see before you now cause I've been
digging into the sand
and I'll never understand
I've been running so high
never thought I could die
and I would live the longest 'cause I've been digging into the sand
and I'll never understand wont you take the weight off of my hands