

Get the Process Changed

The Swellers

11:44 a poor man asks you for some change. You say you're out of money and then you go on your way. He stops you as you're walking he says "that's not what I meant, how could you be so ignorant? Sure I could use some money but I'm interested in what you could do to make it better in the world that I live in. Will you contribute to how our nation falls apart? Will you vote not to have a heart? Change. We'll get the process changed. I'd rather change than run away. It's kind of obvious why people shy away. But all the hands that help I know uplift the hands that pray. It takes a half a cent to feed a hungry child in pain. Just let them live another day. Instead of politics we should just set it all aside. Uncover awful truths that for so long we tried to hide. We need to drop some food instead of dropping atom bombs. We're killing children, dads, and moms. Change. We'll get the process changed. I'd rather change than run away.
