Keep Looking Where Your Eyes Are Looking Now

The Swellers

Six of us pack in the car and stare out at the stars Wondering if you're up there When I heard the news I went numb At first in denial but somehow, I knew

Don't look down Set yourself up for falling Don't look back; the past is never good enough Don't look up, you won't find answers in the clouds Keep looking where your eyes are looking now