

Cypher

The Tea Party

You hold the key, the secret unheard
You shared it with me, I'm dazed and disturbed
Now it's hell up above, it's heaven below
It feels like the end, the further I go

Yeah, I can't commit, there's no one to trust
I'm sleeping in chains and I'm drowning in dust
Infallibly stained, I'll cut to the core
The further I fall, the more I implore

See how we fall from grace and chase
Another lost cause that takes the place of time
Somehow, some way, we hope, we pray
That maybe someday the cypher will unwind

See how we fall from grace and chase
Another lost cause that takes the place of time
Somehow, some way, we hope, we pray
That maybe someday the cypher will unwind
