

The 11th Hour

The Tea Party

I took a walk, some time after dark, I had to meet a friend
He's got no name, but claims to know the game, I guess it all depends
All right

He said the game is fate, hurry, don't be late, the veil is getting thin
Climb up the tower, and on the eleventh hour, you'll get your chance again

Just then my world came crashing down, without a sound
I saw what he sees, I fell on my knees, then I kissed the ground

I saw the real, breaking though, shining through, wanting you
I saw the real, breaking though, wanting you, baby, let's go

Just then my world came crashing down, without a sound
I saw what he sees, I fell on my knees, then I kissed the ground

I saw the real, breaking though, shining through, wanting you
I saw the real, breaking though, wanting you, baby, let's go

I saw the real, breaking though, shining through, wanting you
I saw the real, breaking though, shining through, baby, let's go o

I saw the real, breaking though, shining through, wanting you
I saw the real, breaking though, shining through, wanting you

I saw the real, breaking though, shining through, wanting you
I saw the real, breaking though, wanting you, baby, let's go
